Numb. 12485.

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday October 18, to Tuesday October 21, 1783.

Dublin Caſtle, October 14, 1783.

THIS Day the Parliament having met according to Appointment, his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant went in State to the Houſe of Peers; and being ſeated on the Throne with the uſual Solemnity, his Excellency ſent for the Commons and directed them to chooſe a Speaker; and they having unanimouſly elected the Right Honourable Edmund Sexten Pery into to that Office, he was by them preſented to his Excellency and approved of. His Excellency then made the following Speech:

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

IT is with more than ordinary Satisfaction that in Obedience to His Majeſty's Commands I meet you, in the full Poſſeſſion and Enjoyment of thoſe Conſtitutional and Commercial Advantages which have been ſo firmly eſtabliſhed in your laſt Parliament. The ſacred Regard on the Part of Great Britain, to the Adjuſtment made with Ireland at that Period, has been abundantly teſtified by the moſt unequivocal Proofs of Sincerity and Good Faith.

It will ever be my Wiſh, as it is my Duty, to promote the mutual Confidence of both Kingdoms, and the uniting them in Sentiments as they are in Intereſt; ſuch an Union muſt produce the moſt ſolid Advantages to both, and will add Vigour and Strength to the Empire.

I ſincerely congratulate you on the happy Completion of His Majeſty's anxious Endeavours to reſtore the Bleſſings of Peace to his faithful People. The Eſtabliſhment of the Public Tranquility is peculiarly favourable at this Period, and will naturally give Spirit and Effect to your Commercial Purſuits. Both Kingdoms are now enabled to deliberate with undivided Attention on the ſureſt Means of increaſing their Proſperity, and reaping the certain Fruits of reciprocal Affection.

I have the higheſt Satisfaction in acquainting you of the Increaſe of His Majeſty's domeſtic Happineſs by the Birth of another Princeſs.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I have ordered the proper Officers to lay the National Accounts before you: From them you will be enabled to judge of the Circumſtances of the Kingdom; and I rely upon your Wiſdom and Loyalty to make ſuch Proviſion as ſhall be fitting for the honourable Support of His Majeſty's Government.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

The Miſeries of an approaching Famine have been averted by the Bleſſing of Divine Providence upon the Meaſures which the Privy Council adviſed; the good Effects of which were ſoon viſible in the immediate Reduction of the Price of Grain and the Influx of a valuable and neceſſary Supply to the Market. Any temporary Infringement of the Laws to effect ſuch ſalutary Ends, will, I doubt not, receive a Parliamentary Sanction.

Among the many important Objects which demand your Attention, I recommend to your Conſideration Laws for regulating the Judicature of the Court of Admiralty, and for making a new Eſtabliſhment of the Poſt-Office.

The Linen Manufacture being the Staple of your Country, it is needleſs for me to recommend Perſeverance in the Improvement of that moſt important Article.

The Fiſhery on your Coaſts will claim your Attention as a promiſing Source of Wealth to this Kingdom; and the Encouragements granted to it will no Doubt be regulated by you in the Manner moſt likely to produce the beſt Effect, and leaſt ſubject to Fraud and Impoſition.

The Proteſtant Charter Schools, an Inſtitution founded in Wiſdom and Humanity, are alſo moſt eminently intitled to your Care.

I recommend likewiſe to your Attention the Propoſals adopted by Government for providing an Aſylum for the diſtreſſed Genevans. It well becomes the Generoſity of the People of Ireland to extend their Protection to ingenious and induſtrious Men, who may prove a valuable Acquiſition to this Country, which they have preferred to their own. But in forming this Eſtabliſhment, you will doubtleſs conſider it as a Part of your Duty to avoid unneceſſary Expence, and ultimately to ſecure the utmoſt Advantages to your Country.

I anticipate the greateſt national Benefits from the Wiſdom and Temper of Parliament, when I conſider that the General Election has afforded you an Opportunity of obſerving the internal Circumſtances of the Country, and of judging by what Regulations you may beſt increaſe its Induſtry, encourage its Manufactures, and extend its Commerce.

In the Furtherance of Objects ſo very deſirable to yourſelves, I aſſure you of every good Diſpoſition on my Part; ſenſible that in no Manner I can better fulfil the Wiſhes and Commands of our Gracious Sovereign, than by contributing to the Welfare and Happineſs of His loyal Subjects. With an honeſt Ambition of meriting your good Opinion, and with the warmeſt Hope of obtaining it, I have entered upon my preſent arduous Situation; and with Sentiments pure and diſintereſted towards you, I claim your Advice, and firmly rely upon your Support.

Dublin

Dublin Caſtle, October 16.

The Houſes of Lords and Commons having reſolved upon humble Addreſſes to His Majeſty the ſame, together with Addreſſes from both Houſes to the Lord Lieutenant, were this Day preſented to his Excellency, and, with his Excellency's Anſwers, are as follow.

To the KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament aſſembled.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament aſſembled, beg Leave to return our moſt humble Thanks to your Majeſty for thoſe gracious Expreſſions we have received from the Throne, of that tender Concern and paternal Regard for the Happineſs of this Kingdom, which we have ever ſo happily experienced.

Impreſſed at all Times with the deepeſt Senſe of your Majeſty's Goodneſs, we moſt thankfully acknowledge, as a freſh Inſtance of it, the placing us under the Government of a Nobleman, whoſe amiable Character, whoſe Integrity and Abilities, afford every Proſpect of National Proſperity to the Country over which he is to preſide.

The unequivocal Proofs we have received from Great Britain of her ſacred Regard for the Adjuſtment of our Conſtitution and Commerce, made and eſtabliſhed in the laſt Parliament, not only afford us the fulleſt Security for our Conſtitutional and Commercial Rights, but muſt excite in us the warmeſt Affection towards our Siſter Country, and ſtrengthen that Union of Sentiment, as well as of Intereſt, between the Two Kingdoms, upon which the Power and Happineſs of both ſo materially depend.

To contribute to give Permanency to that Union, we beg Leave humbly to aſſure your Majeſty, it will ever be the firſt Wiſh of our Hearts, as it will be the firſt Object of our Endeavours.

We beſeech your Majeſty to accept our warmeſt Congratulations at the Succeſs which has attended your Majeſty's anxious Exertions to reſtore the Bleſſing of Peace to your faithful People, which muſt naturally give Spirit and Effect to our Commercial Purſuits. And whilſt it will enable both Kingdoms to deliberate on the ſureſt Means of increaſing our common Proſperity, we ſhall give every Attention in our Power to promote ſuch Meaſures as ſhall effectually ſecure to us the ſolid Benefits that muſt ariſe from reciprocal Affection.

The happy Increaſe of your Majeſty's Royal Family, by the Birth of a Princeſs, has afforded us all that heartfelt Satisfaction, which we can never fail to experience upon every Increaſe to your Majeſty's domeſtic Happineſs.

Conſcious of the Wiſdom of thoſe Meaſures adviſed by the Privy Council, which, through the Mercy of Divine Providence, have averted from the People the Miſeries of impending Famine, we ſhall gratefully concur in a Parliamentary Sanction of the Means purſued by Government to prevent ſo dreadful a Calamity.

We ſhall alſo moſt chearfully concur in regulating the Judicature of the Court of Admiralty as well as forming an Eſtabliſhment for the Poſt Office.

The Improvement of our Linen Manufacture muſt ever be a principal Object of our Regard.

We are too fully convinced of the extreme Importance of the Fiſhery on our Coaſts, both to our National Wealth and Induſtry, not to beſtow upon it every Attention on our Part, which may beſt encourage ſo valuable a Branch of our Commerce, and beſt prevent thoſe Frauds and Impoſitions, which are ſo fatal to every Infant Undertaking.

We ſhall likewiſe conſider the Proteſtant Charter Schools, from the Humanity as well as Wiſdom of the Inſtitution, highly deſerving of our Care.

We conceive the liberal Intentions of Government to provide an Aſylum to the induſtrious and diſtreſſed Genevans demand both our Acknowledgments and warmeſt Concurrence in every Meaſure that may promote the Settlement in this Kingdom of ſo uſeful a Body of Men. But whilſt we ſhall endeavour to procure every Advantage to our Country from that Settlement, we are likewiſe bound to prevent as far as poſſible every unneceſſary Expence with which the Meaſure might be attended.

We truſt that the preſent Parliament will be diſtinguiſhed in the Annals of their Country for their Wiſdom, Temper, and Moderation, and for the Efficacy of their Regulations, to increaſe the Induſtry, encourage the Manufactures, and extend the Commerce of this Kingdom.

Whilſt we ſhall endeavour to promote ſuch valuable and important Objects to ourſelves, we ſhall moſt cordially conſider the Intereſt of Great Britain as immediately connected with our own; and ever having experienced the Paternal Beneficence of our moſt gracious Sovereign, we beſeech your Majeſty to accept the Tribute of Hearts deeply impreſſed with Gratitude in earneſtly imploring the Divine Goodneſs long to continue your Majeſty's auſpicious Reign over a loyal, happy, and united People.

W. Watts Gayer,
Edw. Gayer, } Cler. Parliament.

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Anſwer.

I WILL take the earlieſt Opportunity of tranſmitting this dutiful and loyal Addreſs to be laid before His Majeſty.

To the KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Knights, Citizens and Burgeſſes, in Parliament aſſembled.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland, in Parliament aſſembled, beg Leave to approach your Majeſty with Sentiments of the moſt unfeigned Attachment to your Royal Perſon and Government, and to offer to your Majeſty our grateful Thanks for the Appointment of a Nobleman to the Government of this Kingdom, whoſe Juſtice, Integrity and Abilities, afford the beſt founded Expectations of National Happineſs and Proſperity under his Adminiſtration.

The Sincerity and Good Faith of Great Britain, ſo abundantly teſtified by the ſacred Regard ſhewn on her Part to the Adjuſtment of our Conſtitution and Commerce, demand our warmeſt Acknowledgments, while we enjoy the full Poſſeſſion of thoſe Conſtitutional and Commercial Advantages which were ſo firmly eſtabliſhed in the laſt Parliament.

We ſhall earneſtly concur in any Meaſure that may confirm and ſtrengthen the mutual Confidence of both Kingdoms, and their Union, in Sentiment as well as in Intereſt. From thence the moſt ſolid Advantages muſt ariſe to both Kingdoms, doms, and Vigor will be added to the Strength of the Empire.

Already do we feel the Bleſſings of Peace: and we intreat your Majeſty to accept our humble Thanks for the happy Completion of your anxious Endeavours to reſtore that ineſtimable Bleſſing to your faithful People. We hope now to reap the Fruits of our extended Commerce, and in our Deliberations we ſhall look upon the increaſing Proſperity of Great Britain with that Regard, which muſt be the Effect of reciprocal Affection.

As affectionate Subjects, deeply intereſted in the Happineſs of our beloved Sovereign, we learn with the higheſt Satisfaction the Increaſe of that Happineſs in the Birth of another Princeſs.

We will immediately inſpect the National Accounts; and, happy in your Majeſty's juſt Reliance upon our Loyalty, we will make ſuch Proviſion as ſhall be fitting for the honourable Support of your Majeſty's Government, conſiſtently with the Abilities of the Nation.

We adore the Mercy of Divine Providence in averting from this People the Miſeries of impending Famine; and we will chearfully concur in a Parliamentary Sanction of thoſe wiſe and ſalutary Meaſures, which Government purſued by the Advice of the Privy Council.

We ſhall loſe no Time in the neceſſary Manner for regulating the Judicature of the Court of Admiralty, and for making a new Eſtabliſhment of the Poſt-Office.

We ſhall induſtriouſly perſevere in the Improvement of our Linen Manufacture; nor ſhall we omit an Attention to the Fiſhery, that promiſing Source of Induſtry and Wealth; and we ſhall endeavour to regulate the Encouragements granted to it, ſo as to produce the beſt Effects, and to prevent Fraud and Impoſition.

We ſhall likewiſe extend our Care to the Proteſtant Charter Schools.

We ſhall readily forward the liberal Intentions of Government to provide an Aſylum for the diſtreſſed Genevans. Ingenious Men have a Claim to the Protection of a generous Nation. But our own Country is no leſs entitled to that Care, which it is our Duty to exert in avoiding unneceſſary Expence, and ſecuring the utmoſt Advantages from the Settlement of the Emigrants.

We truſt that the Wiſdom and Temper of this Parliament will be manifeſted in all its Proceedings; and we ſhall endeavor to profit by every Opportunity which Circumſtances have afforded us of obſerving the internal State of the Country, and judging what Regulations may beſt encourage and extend its Induſtry, Manufactures and Commerce.

Having conſtantly experienced the Beneficence of our Gracious Sovereign in contributing to the Welfare and Happineſs of His faithful Subjects, we lay at your Majeſty's Feet the Tribute of grateful Hearts, earneſtly beſeeching the Divine Goodneſs long to continue the Bleſſings of your Majeſty's auſpicious Reign over a happy, united, and loyal People.

Tho. Ellis, Cler. Parl. Dom. Com.

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Anſwer.

I WILL take the firſt Opportunity of tranſmitting this dutiful and loyal Addreſs to be laid before His Majeſty.

To his Excellency Robert Earl of Northington, Lord Lieutenant General, and General Governor of Ireland,

The humble Addreſs of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament aſſembled.

May it pleaſe your Excellency,

WE the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament aſſembled, preſent to your Excellency our warmeſt Thanks for your moſt excellent Speech from the Throne.

We beg Leave to congratulate your Excellency and ourſelves upon your Appointment to the Government of this Kingdom, at a Period peculiarly auſpicious to Ireland.

In the fulleſt Reliance upon your Excellency's Wiſdom, Juſtice, and Integrity, we anticipate the Advantages this Kingdom muſt derive from your Excellency's Adminiſtration; and conſider your Excellency's Appointment to preſide in it as a freſh Inſtance of His Majeſty's paternal Regard for the Happineſs of His faithful People.

We are highly grateful for the Warmth with which your Excellency ſignifies your Satisfaction at meeting us in the full Poſſeſſion and Enjoyment of thoſe Conſtitutional and Commercial Rights, which were ſo firmly eſtabliſhed in the laſt Parliament.

We truſt that the unequivocal Proofs given by Great Britain of her ſacred Regard to the Adjuſtment then made with Ireland, cannot fail to cement the Union, and ſtrengthen the mutual Confidence between Two Kingdoms, the true Intereſts of which are and muſt ever be inſeparable.

We beg Leave to ſhare with your Excellency in the Satisfaction you expreſs, at the Succeſs of His Majeſty's Endeavours to reſtore the Bleſſings of Peace to His faithful People.

We ſhall, in Purſuance of your Excellency's wiſe and ſeaſonable Advice, ſhew our Readineſs to deliberate upon the Meaſures pointed out by your Excellency, as well for regulating the Judicature of the Court of Admiralty, and the new Eſtabliſhment of the Poſt Office, as for promoting our Commercial Purſuits, and reaping the Advantages to be derived from the Reſtoration of Publick Tranquility. Permit us to add, that the Recommendation of theſe Meaſures by your Excellency affords the moſt convincing Evidence of your Reſpect for the Rights, and your Capacity to diſcern and deſire to promote the Intereſts of Ireland.

The Meaſures purſued by Government, by the Advice of the Privy Council, to avert the Miſeries of an impending Famine, if not ſtrictly conformable to Law, will appear, we doubt not, to have been urged by Neceſſity, and ſo eſſential to the Public Good as to merit Parliamentary Indemnification.

We enjoy the higheſt Pleaſure in every Addition to the domeſtic Happineſs of our Gracious Sovereign, and participate in your Excellency's Satisfaction at the Birth af another Princeſs.

We truſt our well known and moſt ſincere Loyalty to His Majeſty, our Confidence in the Sincerity and Good Faith of our Siſter Country, and the ample Means we have lately acquired of becoming a great and commercial People, will diſpoſe us to carry on our Conſultations for His Majeſty's Honor and the Good of our Country, with that Duty, Temper and Unanimity which can alone render them ſucceſsful.

eeſsful, and perpetuate the Harmony between the Two Kingdoms: And with the firmeſt Reliance on your Excellency's pure and diſintereſted Intentions towards us, we ſhall to the utmoſt of our Power ſupport the Honor of His Majeſty's Government, and the Eaſe of your Excellency's Adminiſtration.

Wm. Watts Gayer,
Edw. Gayer, } Cler. Parliament.

His Excellency's Anſwer.

I Return your Lordſhips my ſincere Thanks for this very honorable Teſtimony of your good Opinion, which it ſhall be my conſtant Endeavor to improve. Be aſſured that my Inclinations, as well as my Duty, will ever intereſt me deeply in the Proſperity and Happineſs of Ireland.

To his Excellency Robert Henley, Earl of Northington, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland,

The humble Addreſs of the Knights, Citizens and Burgeſſes, in Parliament aſſembled.

May it pleaſe your Excellency,

WE His Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland, in Parliament aſſembled, beg Leave to return your Excellency our ſincere Thanks for your excellent Speech from the Throne. We conſider it as a ſtrong Proof of His Majeſty's gracious Attention to the Happineſs and Proſperity of Ireland, that He has been pleaſed to commit the Government of this Kingdom to your Excellency, in whoſe Firmneſs, Juſtice, and Integrity we place the higheſt Confidence that the Powers of Government will be directed to the true Intereſts of the People.

We truſt that your Excellency will lay before His Majeſty the faithful and affectionate Duty of His loyal Subjects of Ireland, and repreſent their cordial Regard to Great Britain in its full Light, thereby ſtrengthening the mutual Confidence of both Kingdoms, and uniting them inſeparably in Sentiment, as they are in Intereſt.

We will aſſiduouſly apply ourſelves to the Conſideration of the many important Objects which your Excellency has recommended to our Attention. And we cannot refrain from acknowledging with Gratitude the Intereſt which your Excellency takes in the Proſperity of this Kingdom, when in the very Nature of thoſe Objects we trace the juſt and generous Spirit which points them out to us.

We will chearfully grant ſuch Supplies as after a proper Inveſtigation of the National Accounts, ſhall appear to be fitting for the honourable Support of His Majeſty's Government, conſidering the Abilities of the Country.

Convinced of your Excellency's Diſpoſition to promote the Welfare and Happineſs of this Kingdom, we ſhall prove ourſelves not unworthy the Confidence you are pleaſed to repoſe in us, by contributing our beſt Endeavours to the Eaſe and Honor of your Excellency's Adminiſtration.

Tho. Ellis, Cler. Parl. Dom. Com.

His Excellency's Anſwer.

I Return you my cordial Thanks for this very affectionate and obliging Addreſs. It is my earneſt Deſire to merit your Confidence, and I ſhall anxiouſly endeavour to juſtify the favourable Opinion you entertain of me by an unremitting Attention to the Welfare and Happineſs of this Kingdom.

By the Lord Lieutenant-General and General Governor of IRELAND.

A PROCLAMATION.

NORTHINGTON.

WHEREAS His Majeſty hath been pleaſed to iſſue His Royal Proclamation, bearing Date at His Majeſty's Court at St. James's, the 26th Day of September laſt, in the Words following, viz.

By the KING,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE R.

WHEREAS a Definitive Treaty of Peace and Friendſhip between Us, the Moſt Chriſtian King, and the King of Spain, hath been concluded at Verſailles on the Third Day of this Inſtant September, and the Ratifications thereof have been exchanged upon the Nineteenth Inſtant: In Conformity thereunto, We have thought fit to command, That the ſame be publiſhed throughout all Our Dominions. And We do declare to all Our loving Subjects, Our Will and Pleaſure, That the ſaid Treaty of Peace and Friendſhip be obſerved inviolably, as well by Sea as Land, and in all Places whatſoever; ſtrictly charging and commanding all Our loving Subjects to take Notice hereof, and to conform themſelves thereunto accordingly.

And whereas His Majeſty hath ſignified His Royal Pleaſure, that the ſaid Proclamation be forthwith publiſhed in this Kingdom; We the Lord Lieutenant, in Obedience to His Majeſty's ſaid Command, do hereby publiſh His Majeſty's ſaid Royal Proclamation accordingly, ſtrictly charging and commanding all His Majeſty's loving Subjects to take Notice thereof, and to comform themſelves according to the Tenor of the ſaid Proclamation.

Given at His Majeſty's Caſtle of Dublin, the 9th Day of October, 1783.

By his Excellency's Command,
T. Pelham.

GOD ſave the KING.

By the Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of IRELAND.

NORTHINGTON.

A Definitive Treaty of Peace and Friendſhip having been concluded at Verſailles on the 3d Day of September laſt, between His Majeſty, the Moſt Chriſtian King, and the King of Spain; and the Ratifications thereof having been exchanged on the 19th of ſaid Month, we do hereby authorize and require you, in Company of the Serjeant at Arms, Purſuivants, and other Officers belonging to the State, to publiſh the ſaid Peace at the uſual Places, and in the accuſtomed Manner, within the City of Dublin, according to the Tenor of the Proclamation herewith ſent you; which is to be done on Monday next the 13th Inſtant, between the Hours of Eleven and Twelve o'Clock in the Forenoon, when the Lord Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and the Sheriffs of Dublin are to be preſent, as in like Caſes has been accuſtomed.

cuſtomed. And for ſo doing this ſhall be your Warrant.

Given at His Majeſty's Caſtle of Dublin, the 9th Day of October, 1783.

By his Excellency's Command,

T. Pelham.

To Sir William Hawkins, Knight, Ulſter King at Arms, or his Deputy.

Dublin Caſtle, October 13, 1783.

THE Officers of Arms, with the Serjeants at Arms and Trumpeters, aſſembled at College Green, and proceeded from thence, accompanied by a Squadron of Dragoons, to Cork-Hill, where the Lord Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Sheriffs attended: And Ulſter King at Arms having preſented to his Lordſhip the Warrant from his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant for Proclaiming the Peace, the Proceſſion was made to the Caſtle Gate as follows, viz.

A Party of Horſe to clear the Way.
Lord Mayor's Officers, Two and Two.
City Marſhal with his Truncheon.
State Kettle Drum and Trumpets.
Purſuivants Meſſengers.
Athlone between Two Serjeants at Arms, with their Maces.
Heralds.
King at Arms, and a Sheriff on each Side, with Truncheons.
Lord Mayor, with Sword and Mace.
Recorder and Aldermen.
A Squadron of Horſe.

When they came to the Caſtle Gate, after the Serjeant Trumpeter had ſounded a Call thrice, Athlone Purſuivant made an Oyez, and Ulſter King at Arms read His Majeſty's Proclamation aloud; the Proceſſion then continued to the Tholſel, Corn-Market, Old Bridge, Ormond-Bridge, and Eſſex-Bridge, at which Places the Proclamation was read by Ulſter, in the ſame Manner: The Spectators, who were very numerous, at each Place expreſſed their Satisfaction by loud Acclamations. During the Proceſſion the Guns in the Park were fired Three Rounds of Twenty-one Guns; and the Evening was concluded with ringing of Bells, Bonfires, and other Demonſtrations of Joy.
